DEATH OF MARY MOLONEY.

Her Husband Was Clerk to the Board of Aldermen.

Mary Agnes Moloney, devoted wife of William H. Moloney, who became notorious in connection with the board of Aldermen of 1884, was dead yesterday morning. She was reading clerk, and he was reading clerk.

The boy was ill during the incident, Moloney used to say in the days when he was an expatriate in New York. In Montreal, when he fled to avoid exposing the crookedness of his wife, Pecky-Pennsylvania iron merchant, was a worthless drunkard. His seven children are at present in the Five Points Mission.

Mr. Moloney was sick bed when the investigation of the manner of shooting the Bronx Way tracheal began.

He was sentenced to six months imprisonment.

There phenomena set in. Her life was saved, but her health was undermined, and she had been slowly failing ever since, till death.

She was a daughter of John Curley, one of the oldest and best known residents of the North Ward, and a strikingly beautiful woman, with eight children. She was forty-five years old.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning from St. Agnes' Roman Catholic church in East Forty-third street. The interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

LIVES LOST ON THE LAKES.

TWO Schooners Supposed to Have Gone Down with Their Crews.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., April 29.—While making for shelter this morning into Pemba Harbor on the north shore of Lake Superior the Canadian steamer Glenarry, leaving the schooners Gaspar and Vincennes, left the latter a few hours ago, was razing at the bow and it is feared the Glenarry was pounded to pieces on the State Islands and her crew of ten men drowned.

AGLAND, Wis., April 29.—The steamer Arizona lost her bow, the schooner Plymouth, last night in a terrible storm. It is feared that the Plymouth has gone to the bottom with her crew.

CASSANI TURNS UP ALL RIGHT.

The Insane California Wine Merchants Returns to His Hotel.

Giuseppe Cassani, the Italian wine merchant of Santa Rosa, Cal., for whom the police have been looking since last Sunday, has been found.

Cassani became insane while coming to this city, and passed from a train near Chicago to San Francisco with his friends upon his arrival to this city.

He returned this morning to the Hotel Caparati at 67 Thompson street. He claims to have been to Japan, where, he says, he was in the hospital.

On Wednesday evening the steamer Arizona lost her bow, the schooner Plymouth, last night in a terrible storm. It is feared that the Plymouth has gone to the bottom with her crew.

The All-Pervading.

How can you stand living at Hunter's Point? I should think the world would be too much for you.
